The Role of Compounded Medications (for Patients Receiving Palliative & End-of-Life Care) Including How to Access them

In the past, there was really only one main pharmacy that managed the palliative care patients in the province. Now, there are options for patients to choose from. The focus of this presentation is to help the provider navigate the changes that have occurred in the pharmacy landscape due to the implementation of the NAPRA compounding standards, and help patients access medications in a timely manner. These changes have taken time to implement and have been overseen by the College of Pharmacists of Manitoba.
